

ManhattanLife

Standing By You. Since 1850.™

When it comes to insurance and annuity products, Americans from all walks of life have this in common: they want to know that when they have a claim or a benefit they can count on their insurance company to come through. We understand that to make good on this need and stand by our policyholders, we must always stand by our producers.

Standing By You. Since 1850.[™]

ManhattanLife has a storied history validating that we deliver on our promise of standing by policyholders and producers. Through domestic and world wars, outbreaks of plagues and multiple cycles of booms and busts, life has marched on in America. For 170 years, we have shown we can be counted on, and our leadership intends to continue to live by these principles for many years to come.

Who We Are

For our producers and policyholders, we are a reliable and independent partner.

Who is ManhattanLife? Since 1850, we've defined our brand with our commitment to standing by policyholders and producers with diligence and compassion. For 170 years we've been a private and closely held company by choice. And as an independent, we have always been free to make decisions that align with our values and core mission — helping policyholders attain and sustain health, wealth and security throughout their lives.

We demonstrate this commitment by striving to honor claims and pay benefits with professionalism and care. For our producers, we are a reliable and independent partner. We stay agile and open minded about customizing products or innovating new policies to meet our policyholders' evolving needs. With a national footprint and licenses to sell in every state and U.S. territory, we are everywhere you want us to be.

As a privately held company, we do not have the distractions of quarterly returns that burden our publicly traded peers. Not driven by share price, we are able to reward performance with creativity and impact. Most importantly, we are free to focus our energy on our fundamental purpose — supporting you and policyholders.

"Standing by You. Since 1850." sums up who we are as it represents our core values of reliability, fairness and respect for partnership. We are there for the broad spectrum of demographics across the nation, and we are established and staffed to ensure we are there whenever you or your customers need us. Standing by our producer partners and policyholders is paramount to our organization. And our 170-year history has proved this out.

Our mission is helping you and our policyholders achieve the life affirmations of health, wealth and security.

History

Independent. Fortitude. Resilience. Attributes that may not immediately come to mind when you think of an insurance company, yet are defining characteristics of ManhattanLife. Founded in 1850, the Company's longevity makes it one of the oldest and most reliable health and life insurance companies in the country.

The endurance of our history is an indicator of the reliability of our future.

In its early years, the Company persevered despite exposure to significant market risk including plagues, wars and global economic crisis. During this volatile era, ManhattanLife added an Incontestability Clause to its policies, ensuring accountability to policyholders. The first American insurance company to do so, it was an early sign of ManhattanLife's signature independence and reliability.

Throughout its first century, the Company continued to lead the industry as an innovator, creating many new types of policies to meet market need. Our current leadership took ownership in 2000. The original founders' commitment to protect policyholders prevails to this day.

This was evidenced in 2014 when ManhattanLife was the only insurance company to challenge the U.S. Department of Health & Human Services — and win — to ensure that access to fixed indemnity health insurance would continue.

The Company's longevity as staying independent in the marketplace is remarkable considering the robust merger and acquisition activity the industry has experienced in modern times. To put its staying power in context, the current average age of S&P Index companies is less than 20 years old. By contrast, operating successfully for 170 years as an independent is a testimony to ManhattanLife's enduring history and an indicator of the reliability of our future.

Our 170-year legacy is a treasure trove of memorable milestones and stories of reliability, innovation and strength.

Our Offering

Producers are critical to the continued prosperity of the Company and so we offer a full range of products to meet all of your customers' needs throughout all phases of life. Yet a diverse and comprehensive portfolio alone is not enough. Product support, flexible service and the speed of which issues are resolved when they arise — are also essential.

We understand this and are there for you at the front end with Annuities, Individual Life & Health, Medicare Supplement and Voluntary Benefits products. Our policies are easy to write and offer significant benefits. The breadth of our product mix supports cross-selling so you can help policyholders “one-stop shop” for their insurance and annuity needs. All to ensure that we're standing by you with the products you need to stand by your customers and our policyholders.

We are also there for you at the back end — writing policies and issuing annuities in every state with multiple charters, wholesale channels and distribution partners that represent us. When you need support or expedient issue resolution you can expect responsive and knowledgeable service. You'll speak with a real person, located in the United States, who you can trust to deliver on our promise.

Our independent spirit allows ManhattanLife to focus on what is best for producers and policyholders – like leveraging acquisitions to provide even broader product range or developing relationships with new organizations to expand the consumer base. We are committed to offering a superior array of insurance policies and annuities, all backed with diligent support, that will not just meet the needs of your customers, but also strengthen your relationship with them.

Our independent spirit allows us to focus on what's best for producers and policyholders.

We stand by you with the right product mix and responsive service you need to stand by your customers and our policyholders.

Our Products

Partnership

At the heart of our business, our relationship with policyholders is only as strong as our relationship with you — and your relationship with them. You understand what matters most to our policyholders and we place a high value on your experience and have a deep respect for partnership.

Though privately held, ManhattanLife has financial strength comparable to the large, publicly traded insurance companies. Yet, as an independent, we can put producer and policyholder needs first. We understand a problem for you is a problem for us. And because we are structurally different, we respond in ways others cannot. As a flat organization, we strive to make decisions quickly and address issues before they escalate or create a ripple effect.

We value partnership, therefore we are a high touch culture and rely on live conversations or face-to-face interaction not offshore call centers and automation. You can count on us to be a responsive partner who will accurately address claims with a focus on expedient resolution.

Nothing is more important to the organization than the relationship we have with you. We will continue to develop superior incentive programs and strengthen meaningful connections with high performing producers. Our leadership has identified many opportunities for business growth, and as your partner, we'll be standing by you every step of the way.

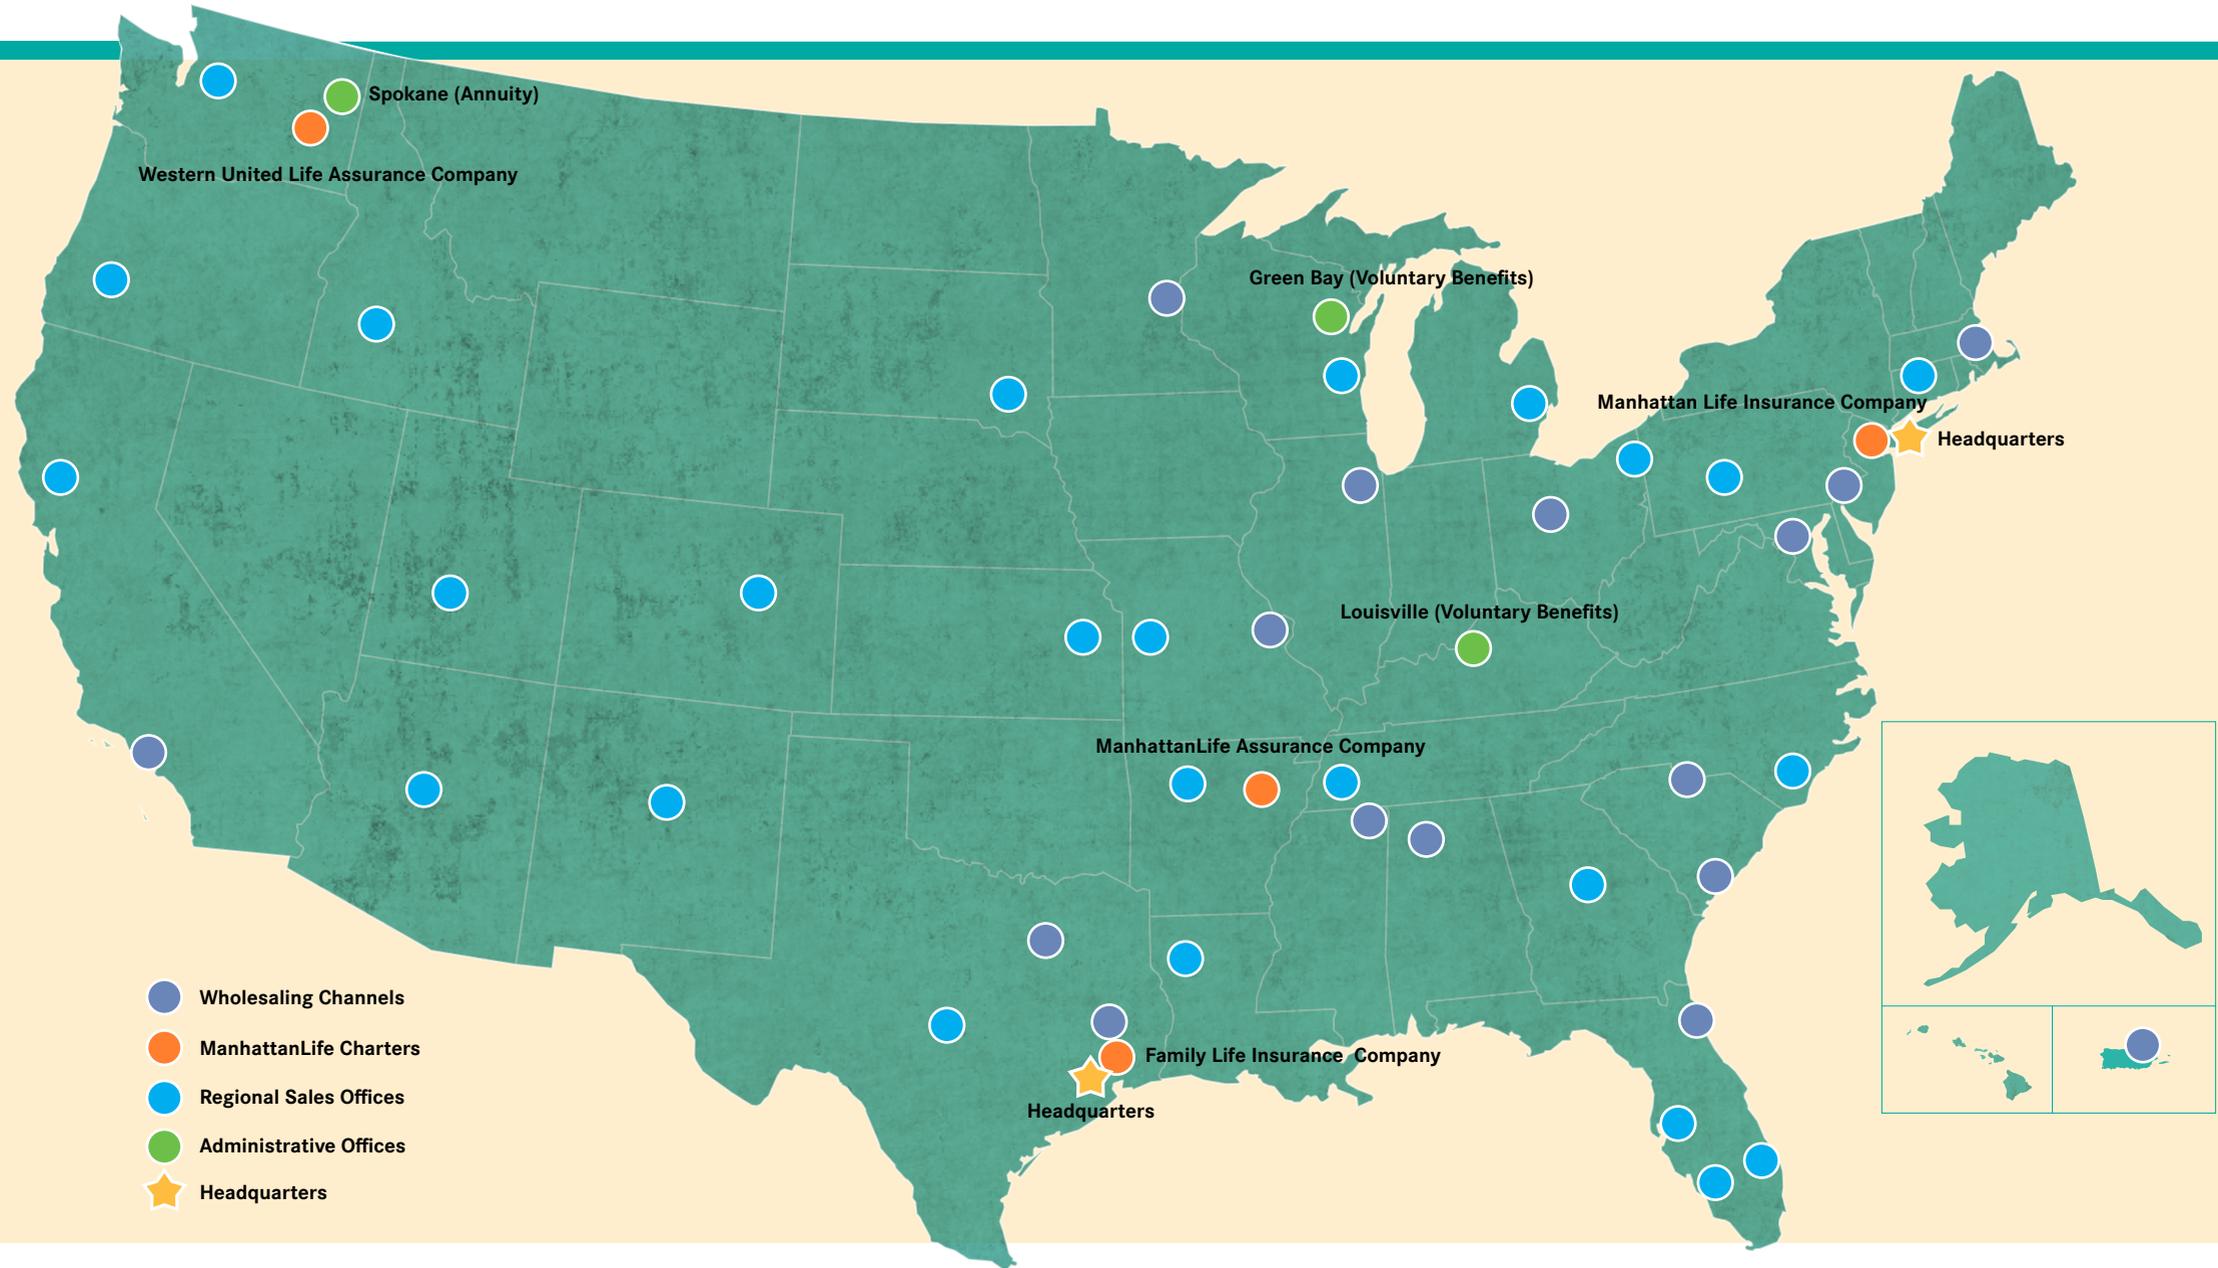

Our relationship with policyholders is only as strong as our relationship with you.

We are committed to supporting your business growth and customer relationships, and rewarding your success.

Our Locations

ManhattanLife may have been established in New York City, but we began our geographic expansion as early as 1851 when we first entered the California market. Today, we offer national reach with responsive, local support so you can count on quick and accurate assistance — not offshore call centers or automation. We write policies and underwrite annuities in every state and U.S. territory. With our multiple charters, wholesaling channels and distribution partners, we can accommodate any domestic footprint or need for additional coverage and annuity guarantees. From coast to coast, we're everywhere you want us to be. And, our offering of a broad product portfolio supported with personal service provides the right insurance and annuity products for every stage in life.

Standing By You

“We thrive in the pursuit of opportunity – not just for ourselves but for our partners as well. Our growth in turn helps us to continue to offer superior products and services to producers and policyholders.”

DAVID HARRIS, CEO

Are you an independent — entrepreneurial and self motivated? Do you prefer to make your own decisions on how to grow your business and chart your own course? If so, we may be kindred spirits. For 170 years, ManhattanLife has chosen to operate our own way according to our mission to always stand by our policyholders and producers.

Mission driven, over the years we’ve stood by customers and producers even when we had to challenge governing officials or departed from the industry status quo. And because we’ve remained independent, we’ve never put the interests of investors over the needs of our policyholders. It’s the standard we’ll continue to live by in the years ahead.

Key to the Company’s success will always be the strength of our relationships with our valued producer partners. It’s core to our model that we provide you with the right tools to grow your business, nurture your customer relationships and achieve your wealth creation goals.

From strategically expanding our product portfolio with policies to accommodate every phase of life to supporting those products with responsive, personal service, our focus is ensuring ManhattanLife producers are successful. And our independence allows us to reward that success in unique and meaningful ways.

If our entrepreneurial culture and partnership focus resonates with you, we’d like to talk.
